

Newlyn tide gauge recalibration

The Newlyn gauge has anchored the British vertical datum since 1915.

Recalibration ran over three spring tides in March 2026.

The correction is 3.8 millimetres per year and is systematic.